REGISTRY SHOWS VARSITY GAINS

Lectures Begun With Two New Professors, Smith and Kastle, Assuming Their Duties.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., Sept. 20.—The University of Virginia opens this year with excellent prospects. It was rather expected that the increased difficulty of the entrance requirements, which involved all departments, and the adding of one year to the law course, would affect the attendance. The three days of registration, however, showed a total gain of forty. The law department has apparently not suffered at all, the attendance up to date amounting to 211. The engineering school holds its own with last year. The medical school has gained five and the college thirty-five. The last day of registration held the record in the bureau's office for the largest single day in the history of the university, 231 having passed that officer. Lectures began in all departments today.

Dr. Smith and Dr. Kastle. Two new professors appear before university classes for the first time. These are Dr. C. Alphonse Smith and Dr. Joseph H. Kastle. The first succeeds Dr. James A. Harrison in the school of English, and will be the first professor of the reorganized school now known as the Edgar Allan Poe School of English.

Dr. Smith came to the university from the University of North Carolina, where he was dean of the graduate department. He had previously done work as an assistant in English in Johns Hopkins, and as professor of English in the Louisiana State University. He goes in 1910 to the University of Berlin as Roosevelt professor of American literature. His predecessors in that work were President Hadley, of Yale; Dr. John V. Burgess, and Dr. Felix Adler, of Columbia.

Dr. Kastle succeeds Dr. John W. Mallet. He takes the chair of chemistry. For nearly twenty years he was professor of chemistry in the State College of Kentucky. Since 1906 he has been chief of the division of chemistry in the hygienic laboratory of the United States public health and marine hospital service, during which time he has been a diligent writer on scientific subjects.

Summer Building Activity. The summer vacation has seen great activity in building and related enterprises at the university. The foundation for the new law building, which is to cost $30,000, has been prepared. It is situated near Dawson's Row, in the foreground of Monroe Hill, and is to be a handsome as well as useful structure. The lawn has been lighted with electricity, the wiring for which has been placed under ground. The lamps used are large, handsome globes, a decided advance on the small incandescent lamps formerly used. The Chinese garden between East Lawn and East Range are now accomplished facts, while the grading of Carr's Hill, long famed in the annals of the university, has been completed.

President Alderman, who is one of the speakers announced to appear in New York to-night at the farewell reception to Charles R. Crane, who is leaving to assume his post as minister to Russia, is also to go to Cambridge to attend the installation of President Lowell, of Harvard.

President Alderman will have painted a portrait of the late Edward W. James, of Norfolk, to be preserved with the paintings of other scholars and benefactors of the university. Mr. James gave the university more than $250,000 and his valuable library.

POCAHONTAS MAN KILLED.

Rail Victim's Body Brought from West Virginia for Burial.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) POCAHONTAS, VA., September 20.—A telegram announces the killing of James Thomas Lewis, of the Norfolk and Western Railway, near Welch, W. Va. He was twenty-one years of age, and the oldest son of W. F. Lewis, of this city. His remains will be brought here for burial.

Another Rail Victim.

J. T. Woody was killed at Mayberry, W. Va., while attempting, it is said, to board a freight train, being struck by another going in the opposite direction. His body was horribly mangled. Woody was a native of Roxboro, N. C., and twenty-two years old. His body will be taken to North Carolina for burial.

JUNIOR MECHANIC BREACH WIDENED

North Carolina State Council Issues Call Looking to Withdrawal from National Body.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., September 20.—The State Council, Junior Order United American Mechanics, which has a membership of 22,000, may withdraw from affiliation with the national council of this order. State Council J. F. Reynolds to-day issued a call for a special meeting of the State Council to be held in Greensboro October 6.

The important questions to be acted upon are given by the State council as follows:

"First. For the establishment and maintenance of a funeral benefit department owned and controlled and operated by the State council.

"Second. The establishment and maintenance of an orphanage.

"Third. To consider laws as passed by the national council which compel subordinate councils to pay exorbitant prices for all supplies; for the consideration of large sums of money spent by the national council officers; to consider the increased taxes as forced upon subordinate councils by the national council; to consider and advise whether or not the State council shall pay to the national council per capita tax as demanded by the laws of the national council, and to consider all laws passed by the national council at the session held at Detroit, Mich., relating to the State and subordinate councils, and all other laws of the national council detrimental to State subordinate councils, and more particularly laws passed by the national council at Detroit, Mich., session in regard to insurance.

"Fourth. To advise and consider whether or not the laws of the national council, as enacted by that body, are for the best interests of the State council, owing to the fact that the national council is not a representative body, in that a majority of the voters in the national council are not the representatives elected by the different State councils, but perpetuated committees appointed by the board of officers of the national council and past national and past State councils.

"Fifth. That this call is made for the purpose of considering all or any of the above-named purposes, and to take final action upon any of the above-named questions as the State council may determine wise and expedient."

The Virginia State council withdrew from the national body two years ago, and officials of the order here are advised that other State councils contemplate taking the same action.

The boy was hurried to a surgeon, who extracted a number of shot from the injured hand.

ASK LOCAL OPTION VOTE.

Charlottesville Petitioners File Paper With the Corporation Judge. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., September 20.—The petition to the corporation judge to order an election for and against liquor licenses, which has been circulating a week for signatures, has been presented to Judge G. Burnley Sinclair. It is said to contain 301 signatures. It prays the judge to order within the time and manner prescribed by law a special election "upon the question of granting or not granting licenses to the sale of intoxicating liquors in Charlottesville."

This petition was accompanied by another, asking that, in the event the vote favored license, the judge would submit the question to such parties that will promise and agree to sell in packages and not to be drunk on the premises where sold.

Judge Sinclair has ten days in which to consider and act upon the petition. Within that time all objections to the signatures are to be made. If none are submitted, the judge will accept the petition as legal and order the election. This election cannot take place less than thirty days before the approaching November election.

ELECTION CONTEST DECISION.

Wright Wins in Elizabeth City Court, but Spire Appeals.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., September 20.—A unique case was disposed of in to-day's session of the Superior Court, namely, State in re M. G. Wright vs. C. O. Spire. A decision favoring Wright being rendered by the court. Wright being rendered primary for city officers Spire and Wright both ran for Alderman in the Seventh Ward, resulting in favor of Spire. In the election following Wright came out as an independent candidate and received a majority of the votes cast. However, when the board of canvassers met they found Wright's ballots were not of legal advertised size. Hence they threw the tickets out and declared Spire elected.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
